Find out more about Trivselbygden
trivselbygden.se

The beautiful area Trivselbygden is located in the borderlands between Halland, Småland and Västergötland. This wonderful landscape, with its many glittering deep blue lakes, lush deciduous forests and red-tinted wild strawberry meadows, is the habitat for a multitude of animals and plants both great and small. At times, the old-growth fir and pine forests are adorned by characteristic carpets of moss and the fantastic scents of summer. In the blink of an eye, the landscape picture changes and fertile fields and meadows dominate with growing cairns and wild flowers.

Scattered through the forests like a string pearls, you will come across lakes of various sizes with abundant stocks of fish. Together with the blue waters of the Ätran river, which meanders calmly and serenely southwards through the valley, this is a paradise for both hikers and bird watchers, as well as for canoeists and fishing enthusiasts!

During your stay in Trivselbygden, you will constantly be standing on historical battlefields. Once upon a time, this was the border between Halland, then part of Denmark, and Sweden and many bloody battles were fought in these green fields before peace finally arrived. Periodically, the area was so badly torn and devastated by war that nearly 90% of the farms were exempt from paying taxes. At present, the traces left by wars are still visible in the form of old embellishments, fallen ancient castles and distinctive boundary stones, to name a few examples.

Foto Henrik Theodorsson

There are numerous ancient monuments and interesting historical buildings, waiting to reveal their exciting stories just for you. Ancient burial sites, rune stones, cultivation cairns and long stone walls also give the natural environment its distinctive genuineness.

We dare to say that there is a gem for everyone here: on land or at sea, on a modern plant or in a clearing in the forest. You will find here places that will touch your heart – your journey begins here!

TOURIST INFORMATION

Thanks to the fact that Trivselbygden includes villages from three different municipalities, you have a number of tourist agencies to turn to for more information and an improved holiday experience.

In the area there are several operating canoe rental companies who considers as their privilege to share their knowledge with just you! All of them have waste disposal, toilet and equipped with BBQ facilities with wood storage. Some have shelters. HÅCKSVIK

Kisteberget

512 95 Håcksvik

Drive from Håcksvik towards Sjötofta for approximately one kilometre. Then follow the blue signs.

Mythical location just outside Håcksvik. "Kisteberget" has a deep karst formation that you can go down into. It's rumoured that there's ancient treasure buried there. You wouldn't be the first to try to salvage it because many have tried before, and failed. If the legend is correct, it would be gold coins worth a king's ransom. It would be quite an advantage if there were several of you in the party because there is a challenging cleft in the rocks that you might like to take on. It's narrow, high and winding, so you might get a few butterflies in the stomach when you squeeze your way in and clamber down to the bottom. Once there, you can certainly sense the lightly damp air that greets you from the high rock walls and the thought hits you that this is a place you want to be sure to be able to get out of. At the same time, the heart beats a little faster and you are proud and satisfied when you do come out. Certainly worth a cup of coffee from the picnic basket! More information under "Hiking".

Right next to the quarry, there are life-size statues illustrating what the work could look like. There are hiking trails in the area that showcase the beautiful nature and geology, industrial history with the railway, etc. There are several picnic tables and benches as well as barbecue areas. Deer are fantastic at maintaining the landscape, keeping the pasture around the farm open, and we enjoy following their progress throughout the year. On the farm, we have a Swedish Food Agency approved facility for butchering and packaging game. We offer a range of products including dry-aged and filleted joints, top-quality vacuum-packed and frozen meats, as well as sausages and mince with a very high percentage of venison. Fallow deer meat is tender, with a mild gamey flavour and is excellent for grilling. If you are a hunter, we also offer the opportunity to stalk deer in our paddock. THE AMAZING

Allemansrätten (Freedom to roam)

Thanks to "Allemansrätten" (the right of public access) everyone can roam freely in the Swedish countryside. However, there are certain things you must bear in mind when you are out hiking, camping, climbing, picking flowers or anything else in the forest and countryside. "Allemansrätten" gives us all access to the countryside. Therefore it is our shared responsibility to safeguard this ancient practice, not least by showing consideration when enjoying the countryside. Remember not to disturb the landowner or to damage the nature you are staying in.

TRIVSELHUBEN

Trivselbygdens Utvecklings AB has received Leader support to create TrivselHuben, a coworking space and center for local development in Överlida.

FOCUS ON LOCAL FOOD PRODUCTION – The project strengthens local food production by creating a center where producers can sell their products directly to consumers. This shortens supply chains and increases awareness of sustainable choices. By raising the question "How many miles do I have on my plate?" more people are encouraged to choose locally produced food. At the same time, collaborations between producers are fostered, which continuously strengthens both local livelihoods and the community in Trivselbygden.

Additionally, the project will provide a flexible working environment for entrepreneurs, remote workers, and students. Visitors can rent temporary office spaces, book conference rooms, or use a quiet study area. Entrepreneurs will have an inspiring place to network, collaborate, and develop.

SUMMERTIME! – Parts of TrivselHuben will "transform" into tourist information and a smaller "farm shop."

A warm welcome to TrivselHuben! Read more at trivselhuben.se
